

Fall Foliage Workshop in Ensemble Singing

OCTOBER 9–12, 2009
(FRIDAY NIGHT–MONDAY AFTERNOON)

COLUMBUS DAY WEEKEND

An Autumn A Cappella Revel in Beautiful Woodstock, Vermont

MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE,
EARLY AMERICAN,
ROMANTIC, FOLK, JAZZ, POP AND CONTEMPORARY REPERTOIRE

What makes the Western Wind workshop unique is the focus on small ensembles, where everyone makes an essential contribution as an individual singer. Most of the day is spent in small groups, working on a variety of a cappella repertoire. Each group sings an intriguing selection of music which could include Medieval, Renaissance, Baroque, Early American; 19th- and 20th-century part-songs; rounds, hymns, and folk-songs; jazz, pop, doo-wop, and improvisations.

Requirements: Since there are groups at every level from advanced to beginner, you'll be placed in a group where you'll feel comfortable. Ability to match pitch and carry a tune is essential. Choral experience is recommended. If you're not certain whether you meet these requirements, please give us a call.

The Workshop will be held at the historic Chapel of the North Universalist Society of Woodstock, Vermont, just steps from the village green in Woodstock, Vermont described as "the prettiest small town in America" by the Ladies Home Journal.

Accommodations: Lovely and inexpensive bed and breakfast accommodations are available in local homes. (We urge participants to support the workshop by staying with local hosts who barter for part of their tuition and support our program at the Unitarian Society by providing bed and breakfast for workshop participants.) Inn accommodations are available in Woodstock, but are very expensive for Columbus Day Weekend, which is the height of leaf season..

Tuition: 3-day Workshop - $299 per person (if enrolled before 9/10/09; after 9/10/09, tuition is $325)

Bed and Breakfast: $55 per night per person, double; $65 per night, single; $95 per night, couple
